

The Boches fear the cold steel more than anything else, hence our National Army men are getting special training in bayonet work. These men seem to be putting their hearts into it.

Another phase of bayonet practice, in which the soldiers learn the proper amount of muscle to put into a thrust, while their British instructor watches carefully to see that the imaginary Boches get their just deserts.
